Procrastination doesn't Pay!

If you're a regular customer of ours then you'll know that we like to give you the facts then let you decide what to do.

We never just go ahead and do the work.

If we can see that your brakes are starting to wear and will soon need new discs, we'll tell you. If we believe your cambelt is approaching the end of its life – we'll suggest replacing it. But at the end of the day, if it is not a WOF issue, then it is your choice.

Often our customers will tell us – 'No, just leave it – I'm selling it soon anyway.' Then 3 or 6 months later they are back with the same car, spending more money because something's broken causing expensive damage in the process. They still want to sell it, but now have to spend a lot of money on it first.

So, if you've been putting off maintenance that's overdue on your car, how about being proactive and getting it out of the way? You'll feel much better selling it knowing there are no skeletons in your closet and you won't be risking a major problem if you run the car on longer than you planned to.

Christmas/New Year Holidays

I know it is a bit scary to be discussing Christmas already, but this will be our last newsletter for the year. If your car is due for a service/WOF in late Dec/early Jan please book it in well before it is due to avoid a last minute panic. We can issue and post-date WOFs by up to 14 days.

Over Xmas our operating hours will be:

Up to Fri 23 December – business as usual
Sat 24 Dec - Tue 3 Jan inclusive – closed
Wed 4 Jan onwards – business as usual

We wish you all the very best for the festive season!
